The primary aim of the DENDRAL project was to help organic chemists in identifying unknown organic molecules from compounds extracted from known origin that had medicinal or utility value. The process was done by analysing their mass spectra and then undergoing comparative study using knowledge of chemistry. It was done at Stanford University by Edward Feigenbaum, Bruce Buchanan, Joshua Lederberg, and Carl Djerassi. It began in 1965 and spans approximately half the history of AI research. The DENDRAL Project was one of the first large-scale programs to embody the strategy of using detailed, task-specific knowledge about a problem domain as a source of heuristics, and to seek generality through automating the acquisition of such knowledge. 32 pp. Englisch.
